Hiring Manager
Magnolia Grocers
Charlotte, NC

Dear Hiring Manager,

I'm writing about the Director of Inbound Logistics opening. I've spent nine years in freight and distribution, the last four running inbound for a home goods retailer with three distribution centers and about $48M in yearly freight spend.

When I joined Red Clay Hearth, on-time inbound delivery was 87% and nobody trusted the carrier numbers. I built a weekly scorecard, sat down with each of our nine truckload carriers, and renegotiated every contract. On-time delivery is now 95%, and we save about $2.1M a year.

Grocery is a different pace, and I know that. Before Red Clay Hearth I worked on 120 lanes at Brassmoor Freight, many of them for food shippers, so I'm used to short windows and cold-chain rules.

I would welcome a conversation about the network changes you're planning for next year.

Sincerely,

Daniel Okafor
